

Randy Goruk Presents the Power of...

Thinkership™

Randy Goruk, the highly acclaimed leadership development speaker, coach and author, has taken on a topic that your competitors hope you never discover. He will show you and your team how to close the gap between thinking and doing with the Power of Thinkership™

Whether your challenges are in individual performance, team building, addressing conflict, competition, sales, product development, financial results, personal development or any other aspect of the business, thinking is at root of every solution. And the stronger your commitment to advancing thinking over doing, the stronger, more complete every solution becomes.

In The Power of Thinkership™ audiences will learn how to:

- Avoid crisis by solving problems before they occur, allowing more time to focus on profitability
- Think more and react less, thereby creating exponential increases in performance and revenue
- Make great decisions that are consistent and in alignment with the organizations goals
- Generate a constant flow of ideas in order capture the best ones for implementation
- Communicate effectively for full employee engagement and increased profitability
